WORK ON THE FUTURE

A learning design and futures company that helps pupils think abundantly about career choices and prepare for their future world of work

The Futures-Smart Careers Game

Everyone wants to be better tomorrow than they are today. Although the future is unknown, you can still craft your preferred future. You can plan for it and work towards it. You can achieve future-readiness, by practising Futures Thinking and embed it in your “way of being”. Essential life-orientation skills to inform career choices.

Navigate near-, mid- and long-term futures based on various trends and discover more about your worldview and how you see the future and your place in the world of work.

Duration & Structure:

Played over 3 school periods (an hour per round) by students in teams of 5-6 players. Each round, moves teams further in time with facilitated debriefs by teachers to allow students to share, discuss and learn from each others' ideas and career strategies.

Target Audience:

Grades 7 to 12 learners engaging in Life Orientation (careers & career choices) curriculum will benefit.

One of the biggest gifts we can give our children is for them to make wise career choices that lead to a Net Positive life and one in which they are better descendants today and better ancestors tomorrow.

Packages

Flexible purchase packages that entitle schools to utilise the game for all Life Orientation learners are available.

Schools receive a digital, train-the-teacher course to capacitate your educators to deliver the game, along with all print-ready collateral (game sheets, trend cards, career & future world of work logbooks) - all of which can be inexpensively printed by your school's printing provider.

Fees* are R130 per learner (roughly the equivalent of a Life Orientation textbook) with discounts given on volume of students. *Excludes VAT.

The game is conceived and locally created by our founders, one of whom is a well known South African futurist and regular talk radio guest, the other an experienced learning designer.
